The Queen and the Czar

ENGLAND'S POSITION—RUSSIA'S OFFENCE AND BRITISH INDEPENDENCE

(From the London Times, Dec. 1.)

The position of the British government with regard to Russia is one of extreme simplicity. The government we are happy to think are united in their determination to maintain the treaty as it stands until it is modified by the same authority that made it. It shall not be violated so long as we have the power to prevent the violation. But, so far as we know, there has yet been no violation. The treaty has been repudiated, and Russia pretends to resume the right to rebuild Sebastopol and to create a Black Sea fleet. Now there can be no doubt that there are precedents for considering such a declaration as a casus belli. Indeed, it is evident that cases may arise in which a notice of this kind ought in justice to be looked upon as an act of hostility. Where an obligation is repudiated obviously with a view to immediate action, the Power that is threatened would be weak, indeed if it scrupled to take the warning and anticipate the attack. But here there is no such prospect, no immediate danger—nay if we are true to ourselves, no danger at all. It must be long before Russia can place a navy on the Black Sea, that navy will certainly be weak, ill manned, and not very skilfully equipped. The Russian fleet of 1854 could not keep the sea for a day after the Allies passed the Bosphorus, though the late Czar had been long preparing it, took great pride in it, and could boast that it contained some of the most powerful ships in the world. It need hardly be said that Russia can put no ship on the Black Sea against the will of England. Having, therefore, the maternal power entirely in our hands, we may dispense with the necessity of considering the Russian declaration as a hostile act. It may contemplate hostility, or it may be a mere bit of bragging uttered by Prince Gortchakoff to maintain his failing influence, but, in either case there will always be the opportunity and means of meeting it. This determines our conduct, and enables us to act with the requisite firmness while giving Russia every opportunity to recede from the position she has taken, and to seek redress for her alleged grievance in a legitimate way. England, then, refuses to recognize the right of the Russian government to abrogate the clause of the treaty respecting the Black Sea, and will enforce it should the declaration of Russia be followed by any overt act, but, if Russia is willing to let it be understood that her aggressive circular shall not be considered as an assumption of a foregone conclusion, England, when the political situation of Europe permits the assembling of a conference of the Powers, will be willing to consider the representations of Russia as if nothing had happened. It is impossible that the most zealous partisan of Russia if he resigns any sense of justice, can ask more than this, on the other hand, our "candid friends" at home, with all their neatness in espying the faults of our own policy and excusing our opponents, can hardly maintain that their country can be content with less.

Having taken this position, with a firm resolution to maintain it, we may, it seems to us, leave it to the Czar to make the next move. At Versailles there is talk of a conference, and it is understood, we are told, that Russia is willing to yield to friendly representations proceeding from Count Bismarck. Well and good. We also are quite ready for friendly negotiations, as we have been from the beginning. But let it be clearly understood that we are not eager for a conference, and have no intention of begging Russia as a favor to meet us that we may yield in legal form what she has violently taken. Russia has challenged the parties to the treaty in a document more offensive than any that has been put forth in the present century. A mere insult is not a sufficient cause of war, especially when we know it to be vainglorious and impotent. But it forbids the Power which has suffered it to approach the offender until it is virtually withdrawn. Overtures for a discussion of this question ought not to come from England, but from Russia, whether through Count Bismarck's intervention or otherwise. Enough for us is the position we take up—that we do not accept the renunciation of the treaty, and shall act according to circumstances.

The Late Elections in Prussia

A Berlin letter, dated the 13th ult., to the Boston Advertiser, says

We have this week passed through the excitement of a popular election and witnessed the close of a political campaign. Literally these words are true, yet the only impression they could possibly give to an American would be utterly false. Were all the delegates, say three hundred and fifty, of a legislative body in the United States to be chosen for three years, there would be excitement and discussion. But here how different! The first intimation that a somewhat careful reader of the German papers had, that a popular election of the delegates to the Lower House of the Prussian Parliament was at hand, was a brief announcement in one of the leading political dailies, on Wednesday morning last, that it being election day no evening edition would be published! The very time when an American press would groan with excessive labors is a holiday to the German printer. On inquiry, it turned out that the people were not to vote directly for their delegates, but would choose some fifteen hundred electors, who would meet a fortnight hence, and elect the delegates.

What sort of a looking place are the Prussian polls and how do the Prussians vote? If I go to the election will men come out in the street to meet me with printed ballots for their rival candidates? And will soldiers be there, as in New York, to keep men from the Prussian officer appointed by the King to superintend the polls before him a huge ledger, and on either side his assistants. A man who is qualified to vote for an elector goes up to the officer, and if found to be a legal voter has name, residence and occupation are recorded in the ledger, together with the person or persons for whom he casts his vote. On Thursday morning some of the journals announced the names of the electors chosen but no figures were published. If a man wanted to know the majority by which he was elevated to a position of political honor and trust he must go to the proper officer and inquire.

Clergymen Advertising for Wives

(From the New York Sun.)

Clergymen are not generally supposed to be among those who advertise for wives in newspapers. In this country at least instead of their being embarrassed in finding partners for life, their embarrassment generally is to choose among the many ladies who aspire to the responsibilities and duties of a clergyman's wife. In England, however it seems to be otherwise and a single copy of the Matrimonial Times published in London, contains among its advertisements three from clergymen which we here subjoin.

"A Clergyman aged 28 with a nice living, good residence and well connected wishes to marry, and would like to correspond with a young lady under 30 years of age and having some private property of her own.

"A Clergyman tall, dark, handsome aged 30 whose present income is £140 would like to correspond with a lovable lady from 20 to 30 years of age with some means in her own right. He would like to exchange carte with [illegible] or 30.

"A Clergyman of the Established Church, aged 26, tall and good looking but with only £100 per annum, wishes to marry, and would like to correspond with a young lady of good family, pleasing appearance and some good means.

EASTERN DATES TO DECEMBER 29

Fire from Paris Forts.

VERSAILLES, Dec 29.—Fort Avron, 2,660 yards east of Fort Rosney, is a new work mounting naval guns, reaching the towns of Chelles Montfermail and Clichy. The first fire from this fort in reply to the Saxon guns to day was accurate but not destructive.

Engagement Near Havre.

HAVRE Dec 26.—Since Saturday evening this city has been excited over the first important struggle between the French troops in this department and the Prussians which occurred Saturday morning from daybreak. Although without any decisive result, it is regarded as valuable as a proof of the efficiency of the artillery and capacity of the Mobilas and Tireurs in an encounter with regular troops.

After a number of petty engagements and skirmishes with the Uhlans and Saxons, the people became clamorous for another sortie. Three battalions forming a column of five thousand men, were pressed from Honfleur. The force consisted of three thousand five hundred Mobiles, eight hundred Tireurs, one battery of Regular artillery, twelve field pieces, two mitrailleuses and five Armstrong guns, under command of Col. Mopmanard, who arrived at Chatteau Moulineu established headquarters and sent out advanced posts.

The 24th was one of the coldest days of the winter. Half frozen outposts were driven in by the sudden appearance of Prussian cavalry in large numbers advancing on the chateau. Troops soon formed in line, the artillery pushing forward on right wing. The French behaved well handling the artillery and ammunition with alacrity, and were soon prepared for an attack. The affair promised to be warm and interesting. At seven o'clock the battle began by an impetuous advance of Prussian cavalry fifteen hundred strong, preceded by a battery of artillery, which opened a furious cannonade, and made it hot work for the assailants. The French guns were well placed and splendidly worked, but not sufficiently supported. Their fire created a temporary demoralization among the Germans, whose lines wavered but kept up their fire.

Three advances were made by the Prussians to capture the French batteries, but were each time compelled to retire. This unsuccessful fight with the French of the right lasted two hours. Then a large body of Prussian infantry preceded by a line of cavalry, appeared on the road to Tocamp coming to the support of the enemy. A council was held on the battle field, in which the Germans determined to fall back to Honfleur. The French now occupy the height commanding Harfleur with artillery which could easily have been destroyed by the German forces. Looking down from this height, northwest, was the valley of Lille Bonne. On the opposite side of the hill, but lower in the plains, stood the Prussians to attack the French position. It was necessary for the Prussians to descend into the plain, then cross a petty stream and ascend the opposite bank about 150 feet. The Prussians have essayed to, to make the attempt and at the same time was exposed to a destructive fire from the French, while from their position their fire was ineffectual. Fresh Prussian artillery appeared to the right of the French position and the fire from these guns caused the Mobiles to break in confusion. The French forces immediately commenced a retreat, which they did amidst some confusion. The Prussian line made an attempt to follow up their advantage, but the movement was made difficult by the nature of the ground, nevertheless they say they captured about 200 prisoners. This ended the expedition. The Prussian losses are estimated at about 800 killed, and the French under 200. Since the fight the Prussian forces have again fallen back. The French Army of the North has concentrated around Arras. The health of the troops is excellent.

London Dispatches.

LONDON, Dec 29.—It is rumored that the Prussian Court has expressed its disapproval of Queen Victoria's matrimonial alliance between the Princess Louise and the Marquis of Lorne.

The Pall Mall Gazette warns Englishmen that they cannot do worse than to persist in the idea that the people of the United States are friendly to England. The fact is diametrically otherwise. At any moment the Americans may inflict intolerable insult on the British people.

Military Preparations in Turkey.

BERLIN, Dec 27.—Information is received here that the Porte has ordered the Bosphorus and Dardanelles coasts to be protected by torpedoes.

Dispatch from Madrid.

MADRID, Dec 27.—The Royal Civil List gives the King six million francs annually, and makes him heir to half the palaces of the kingdom.

EASTERN STATES.

NEW YORK, Dec 28.—The billiard match between Rudolps and Dion was played this evening at the Academy of Music, the latter winning the money, champion cue and game by 400 points.

CURRENT NOTES.

A lady in Memphis, not exactly posted on the word "disfranchised," was told that Mr Smith was disfranchised, and she wanted to know how long he had "been so." On being informed that he had been so about four years, she said she didn't see how that could be, for Mrs Smith had a child only two years old.

Estimates of the value of the cotton crop for this year differ very materially, and the most accepted authorities at the South are as much at variance in this respect as they usually are in their speculations about the extent of the crops. The Macon Telegraph fixes the aggregate production at four millions of bales, with a value of $240,000,000.

Sundry American insurance companies have reason to dislike Jim Fisk and his tools in Courts and Legislatures, for, in attempting to establish branch offices in London, they can get no business, until it be "shown to be no longer in the power of directors in New York by means of bits at pleasure."

The Belfast Journal says one of the German clothing dealers in that city recently sold a man a pair of boots. A few days afterward the man returned with them, and said that he went out into the barn yard, where 'twas a little wet, and the soles came off. "Mine Got mine friend, you didn't ought to walk round in dem. Dey is cavalry boots, made to ride mit!"

Some New York girls, whose papas don't keep carriages find means of riding behind horsefish by having the effrontery to attend the funerals of persons with whom, when living they had not the slightest acquaintance, coolly step into the first carriage they find unoccupied, and ride away. As a general thing, the girls find the drive to the cemetery slow and uninteresting, but enjoy the rapid return from it.

A special dispatch from St Louis says the evidence of political bitterness engendered during the late campaign in Missouri, is fast wearing away. A kindly feeling is springing up between both wings of the Republican party bringing them more compact than ever into the struggle of 1872. Gratz Brown is no longer maligned by his opponent or charged with going over to the Democrats. The Democrats are disappointed in this and begin to recognise that the little advantage they gained at the late election is short lived and that when the next contest comes they will sink out of sight again.

Rothermel's great historical picture of the battle of Gettysburg, was unveiled with appropriate ceremonies at the Philadelphia Academy of Music on Tuesday evening the 20th of December. The State of Pennsylvania contributed $25,000 to the work and the amount is from loaned by connoisseurs to be striking and accurate. The study is taken from the last grand charge of Pickett's division on the 3d of July, 1863. The space occupied by the canvass is larger than one of the panels in the rotunda of the nation's Capitol. The picture is to be hung in a building to be especially erected for it at Harrisburg Pennsylvania.

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

French Still Retreating.

LONDON, Dec 29.—The French army of the North has left Arras and retreated to Vrebry, falling back on the strongholds. It is said the Crown Prince of Saxony has been sent to Amiens to assist Manteuffel. The Germans are near Calbral.

Dispatch from Paris.

PARIS, Dec 27—1 A M.—A Saxon battalion has been dislodged from Marledon and Blanche.

The Roumanian Government declares its independence and repudiates the treaty of 1856. France complains that Austrian rolling stock is employed on the South German roads for military purposes and Austria sends Commissioners to inquire into the accusations.

Dispatches from London.

LONDON, Dec. 29.—Fifteen French iron-clads are in Cherbourg harbor.

The French claim that the battle of Fort Rosy elles was a success for the Army of the North.

Von Beusts reply to Bismarck in relation to Luxemburg is similar to Granville's.

The Provincial Correspondence says the bombardment of Arron is considered introductory to the bombardment of Paris. When it is taken, other operations will be facilitated.

The Germans assaulted Belfort twice, but were repulsed with considerable loss.

The Prussians have evacuated the left bank of the Seine. A large force is at Victnol.

Official dispatches announce that the Prussians hastily evacuated Dijon upon the approach of the French forces. This is the result of the campaign undertaken east by order of the War Department. The movement was hastened by Gambetta.

The French have completed beyond Mont Valerian, fortifications which throw shells beyond Versailles, which is thus rendered untenable for the Prussians.

It is reported that the Prussians are incensed at the reports of English correspondents with their armies, and have sent away many after bad treatment.

From French Sources.

LILLE, Dec. 27.—Official contradiction is given to dispatches of Prussians falsely representing the battle of Port Noyelles as a victory and claiming that they took prisoners, whereas they took none. At Creil and Marne are 18,000 sick and wounded men.

ARIZONA.

SAN DIEGO Dec 28.—Christmas eve Charles Reed, station keeper, Mrs Reed, James Lytle, stage driver and old "Tommy," the cook, were seated at supper at Mission Camp stage station, on the road to Tucson, 35 miles east of Arizona City. While eating three Mexicans rode up to the station. One opened the door and, presenting a pistol, shot Mr Reed. As the driver turned to reach for his pistol he was shot through the heart, killing him instantly. All three of the Mexicans then rushed into the house. Mr Reed still living, they cut his throat. Old Tommy was seized and his head entirely severed from his body. Mrs Reed was fired on and hit in the thigh. She would have been killed had not a dog attacked the Mexican who fired causing him to miss his aim. The Mexicans then plundered the house, appropriating four stage horses to carry off the booty. The stage from Tucson discovered the body of a man lying in the road. Near by stood a team of oxen which he had been driving. It is supposed that Mexicans murdered the teamster, and then proceeded to attack the station. No attempt at pursuit was made as the murderers had two days the start to get into the Mexican State of Sonora where pursuit under the most favorable circumstances would be a great disadvantage.

NEVADA.

The London Times publishes a lengthy editorial on the above subject from which we reproduce the following interesting passages:

Estimates and Expenditures.

The Herald concludes an article on national finances with these observations:

For the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1872, the Secretary estimates the receipts at $320,418,000, and the expenditures at $309,639,319. Thus, for for the next two years it may be regarded that the Radical party, which talks so much about retrenchment, will fail to bring the expenses of the Government below the enormous figures of three hundred millions of dollars a year. It is high time that a change of Administration was effected.

In the above the Herald does not have the candor to say that the Secretary includes in his estimate of $309,600,000 for expenditures for the next fiscal year the sum of $24,500,000 for payments on the principal of the public debt. Nor does that paper give any of the items of the estimate. Let us see what they are.

First, there is the interest on the public debt, amounting to $130,000,000. Next, the sum of $24,500,000 for payments on the principal. The estimate for pensions is $30,000,000 more. For public works the sum of $[illegible] is put down, and for interest on the sinking fund (which interest the Government pays to itself), $4,860,000. In these items we have a total of $311,660,000. We have now of the estimate of $309,600,000 (we avoid broken numbers), the sum of $97,940,000 remaining for all the regular expenses of government. Taking into account the difference between currency and coin, this sum is really less than was expended under President Buchanan.

All the Herald covers the items above enumerated, which swell the estimate for expenditures to a sum above $300,000,000, and states what one of them can be reduced? Is it the $11,000,000 to be paid for interest? That might be if the policy of repudiation were adopted, but that policy is not yet in favor with the [illegible] portion of the American people. Is it the $30,000,000 to be paid for pensions? Not so, unless those who were maimed, and the widows and orphans of those who fell in saving for their country, are to be forgotten and neglected. Those "Democrats" who would dig up the ashes of the patriotic dead in National cemeteries and give them to the winds in order that the ground in which they repose might be returned to rebel ownership, would of course be willing to cut off the pensions; but the party who would do this are not yet in power, and probably never will be. Is the $32,000,000 set down for public works and [illegible] estimates for Oregon, we take notice, is very anxious to get a part of it for public buildings, river improvement, etc., and does get more than her proportional share. Of the $24,500,000 estimated for to make payments on the public debt, nothing need be said, unless, indeed, the Herald holds it to be a waste of extravagance for the country to pay its debts instead of adopting the "Democratic" method of repudiating them.

What are all the items, then, above enumerated can be reduced? The Herald, probably will be prudent enough to avoid trying to explain.

We now have in estimate of $309,600,000 reduced to $97,940,000, and out of this latter sum the whole regular and ordinary expenses of the Government are to be met. Let us briefly examine the leading items of these:

For the War Department the Secretary puts down $[illegible]80,000. This is a low estimate, when the wants and extent of the military service are considered. The army numbers something over 30,000 men. This number is not too large for the requirements of the service and is small indeed, when the vast extent of the country, and the recency of the rebellion are taken into consideration. It actually costs less now, per regiment, to maintain the army than it did while Buchanan was President. In the year 1857 the appropriations for the army were over $17,000,000 in coin. Compared with this the present estimate of $[illegible],000,000 in currency is low indeed. In 1857 the navy cost $14,500,000 in coin. Secretary Boutwell's estimate of $20,000,000 in currency for the navy for the next fiscal year is very moderate when compared with the cost of the navy under Buchanan, and when the great increase of the number of vessels and the wants of the service are taken into consideration.

We need not go over other items; though it would be easy to show that in general there has been no increase of expenditure under these, since 1860. Under Buchanan the Government cost $80,000,000 a year in coin. Farming out the expenses chargeable directly to the rebellion, as interest on the public debt, pensions, etc., and the Government now costs but little more in currency than it then cost in coin. This is a fact which no argument can overturn and no sophistry conceal.

A Fallacious Plan.

The other day Samuel S. Cox, a Democratic Congressman from New York, proposed a resolution to abolish the entire revenue system and to provide that the sum deemed proper to be raised by internal taxation, be assigned in just proportions to the several States, to be collected by the authorities thereof and paid into the National treasury.

This idea is entirely impracticable. The reason of it is that it would leave the General Government dependent on the State governments for its means of existence. Precisely such a condition of things existed under the old Confederation, and the evils that arose under it led to the formation of the present Constitution, by which a Government was created which deals directly with the people, and is wholly independent of the State governments in the exercise of its functions. The General Government is not going to live on the alms of the States. Certain high-toned States like Kentucky and Georgia, filled with extravagant notions of "State rights," would probably refuse to pay even the first year's taxation under this system, alleging its unconstitutionality, or asserting that they were assessed beyond their "just proportion," or starting some other excuse; and then would come excitement, criminations, defiance, and perhaps civil war, to enforce payment. The plan will not work, though for that matter it will not be tried. It is the essence of the exploded notion of State sovereignty, and the American people have learned too much and paid too much for their learning, to fool away their time with that dogma.

When Senator McCreery proposed his joint resolution to dig up the Union dead at Arlington, Senator Edmunds said: "The idea that the Senate of the United States is to enter into an investigation as to whether there is not some contrivance by which the bones of our soldiers can be dug up on the other side of that Virginia stream and carried off somewhere else, and that property given back to its late rebel owners, is to my mind perfectly monstrous, and I hope the Senate will not consent to receive or entertain such a proposition."

A Vindication in the Senate.

In the Senate of the United States on the 13th December, Senator Williams presented a joint resolution of the Legislative Assembly of Oregon, which he desired to have read. The Secretary read as follows:

Resolved by the Senate (the House concurring), That a line of railroad from a point on the Central Pacific Railroad, at or near the north bend of the Humboldt, in the State of Nevada, to the Rogue river valley, in Oregon, is of vital importance to the commercial and industrial interests of this State, and our Senators and Representative in Congress are therefore instructed to use all possible efforts and influence in aid of the passage through Congress of the "Oregon Branch Pacific Railroad bill," with the "Williams amendment," and of any other legislation necessary to secure the speedy construction of such line of railroad.

Passed by the Senate, September 30, 1870.
JAMES D. FAY,

Concurred in by the House, September 29, 1870.
B. HAYDEN,
Speaker of the House.

Senator Williams then proceeded as follows:

I will make a single remark in reference to that memorial. During the late political canvass in the State of Oregon I was bitterly assailed by my political enemies because I had proposed the amendment referred to in that memorial, and it was claimed by some that a Democratic majority in the Legislature was secured upon that ground. When the Legislative Assembly convened, however, though there was a majority of my political enemies in both branches of the Assembly, they with but two dissenting voices, passed this memorial, thereby approving in the Legislature what they had denounced and condemned at the polls for party effect.

This is the exact truth, briefly and pointedly stated, about a matter which should disgrace the Democratic party managers of Oregon for their inconsistency, invacacity, and shameless double dealing. Col. Kelly, an actor in this trickery, and Senator Kelly, a product of it, no doubt feels greatly elated with the honor and distinction he has won by it.

Direction of the North Pacific Railroad.

The route of the North Pacific Railroad from Wallula, as indicated by the withdrawal of lands from market, takes a course nearly nearly due east—perhaps two or three degrees to the North. It leaves the Columbia river near the mouth of the Walla Walla, which is about four miles north of the boundary line between Oregon and Washington Territory, and strikes Snake river about eleven miles north of the boundary line. The withdrawal includes all the land in Walla Walla county from the Oregon boundary line to township 14 north, making a strip forty-four miles in width.

It would seem from the course of the road as thus indicated, that an attempt will be made to push it through on as direct a line as possible toward the east and avoid the great deflection to the north which would result from adopting the route by way of Clark's Fork of the Columbia. Were it the intention to take that direction, it would seem that the road would be located from opposite the Dalles through the Yakima country, crossing the Columbia river at Priest's Rapids, or near that point, instead of at Wallula. In that event a considerable distance would be saved; and besides, the road in running across the Yakima country would obtain much good land.

The great difficulty is in the nature of the country east of the point where the route as located strikes Snake river. A more rugged, mountainous country would be hard to find. But it is much the shortest route, and this compensates for the disadvantages to be met.

Report of the Commissioner of Agriculture.

Notwithstanding the casualties to crops from drought, etc., the U. S. Commissioner of Agriculture, in his annual report, estimates that the food supplies of the year are greater than usual. The high temperature seemed very conclusive to the growth of corn, which is now admitted to be the most valuable crop in our arable culture. It is true, in certain localities where deep culture and drainage were not attended to, the crop was small. On the whole, however, our maize crop for 1870 was very large. The Commissioner says;

An examination in detail of the facts of this year's production in the light of enlightened agricultural experience and of science applied to husbandry, would furnish hints to improvement and aids to progress, which, if adopted generally, would increase the present value of farm production to the extent of $500,000,000. It would do more—it would tend to the increase of the fertility of the soil, which now, in nine farms out of ten, is annually decreasing, and it would proportionately advance its intrinsic as well as market value.

In Illinois the specialist in wheat, taught wisdom by many lessons of experience and observation, is rapidly learning that prairie soils may be enriched by alternations of grass and roots with corn and wheat, all except the wheat being converted into meat, milk, butter, cheese, etc., upon the farm.

And cotton growers are learning that with a monopoly of their staple, a climate unsurpassed for perfecting it, and some of the richest lands of the world for its cultivation, their section has grown poorer with its continued culture, and can nowhere show a valley so replete with all the elements of wealth as that of the Mohawk, so long carpeted with grass and flecked with cattle. Profitable as cotton may be, and rich as the best Southern soils surely are, its culture is a special crop, apart from suitable alternating growths, will ultimately result in poverty and barrenness.

The Commissioner says in regard to steam plowing, that the reports of the actual work of the five steam plows now in operation in this country are extremely favorable to the idea of ultimate success in the solution of the problem of steam in plowing as an adjunct of our agriculture.

The introduction of the Cinchona or Peruvian bark tree, and its acclimation in the United States, he regards as deserving consideration. Already several hundred trees are now growing in the Government Gardens at Washington, which number, he states, will be increased to thousands whenever facilities are afforded for testing the feasibility of successful growth in the open air. A supply of young trees is easily obtainable from a source whence no real difficulty arising from transportand transplantation need be apprehended.

The Agricultural Departmental work, the Commissioner says, demands a higher order of talent than the routine service of most public business; it requires a knowledge of national economy, social science, natural history, applied chemistry, animal and vegetable physiology, and practical agriculture, and presents so broad a range of facts in each field of investigation as to demand the most active effort and the most persistent industry. For such labor the most meager compensation only is offered, and it is found difficult to obtain an increase of suitable service, and impossible to remunerate properly that already employed, which is found to be most efficient and reliable, while that which is practically useless for the purpose is offered in unlimited measure. A just and wise revision of clerical salaries would greatly increase the efficiency of the department.

The work of the past year includes the collection of the facts of production and experiment throughout the world, the publication of general and special reports, investigations in natural science in its relations to rural efforts, the introduction and propagation of many new and promising plants, and the increase and improvement of farm products by the dissemination of seeds and plants.

Over 5,000 rifle shots were fired by the Prussians at a balloon which left Paris on November 24th. The passengers retaliated—not by throwing hand grenades, as they should have done—but by tossing at the enemy a number of copies of the Journal Officiel de la Republique.

POLITICAL NOTES.

The President has appointed Dr. H. Bendell, of Albany, New York, late Lieutenant Colonel in the army, in the Surgeon General's department, to be Superintendent of Indian Affairs for the Territory of Arizona. Dr. Bendell is an Israelite, and his appointment is in accordance with the policy of the President, giving the management of Indian affairs to the various religious denominations.

On December 12th Senator Williams introduced a bill to so amend the Organic Act of Idaho Territory as to allow members of the Legislature, after December 1, 1870, six dollars per day during a session, and four dollars for every twenty miles traveled on the nearest route between their place of residence and the seat of government; the presiding officers ten dollars per day; and the chief clerk of each House six dollars per day.

A convention was recently held in Tyler, Texas, to consider the proposition to divide the State. Delegates had been elected from ten counties, and seven more were represented by self-constituted delegates. A proposition to make the Brazos river, and not the Trinity, the western boundary of the new State, was tabled. It was then resolved that it is expedient to divide the State, though delegates from Red river, Cooke, Marion, Titus and Fannin protested against the proposed line. If the new State is formed, Jefferson, Marshall, Beaumont and Sabine Pass expect to become its leading commercial cities.

Mr. Billy Mungen, the veteran Democrat from Ohio, who has immortalized himself by his speeches in favor of repudiating the National debt, and in demonstrating that a negro is not a human being, and other popular Democratic theories, offered a resolution in Congress, on Tuesday, reciting that the people of the United States had adopted the Thirteenth Amendment to the Constitution, and had thereby "stamped with the seal of their condemnation all commerce in human beings." Mungen was not re-elected this year, and hence his courage in declaring that the Thirteenth Amendment was lawfully adopted, and is part of the Constitution.

A Washington dispatch of the 14th says: There is a fair chance of settling the division which arose among the Missouri Republicans during the late campaign, so far as it extends to the delegation here, and the position assumed by the Executive. Members of the House representing both parties in the late campaign, have been in consultation together, and with members of the administration, for a week past, and, to day, matters culminated in an interview with the President, at which the whole situation was talked over. The members present were Messrs. Van Horn, Burdett, Dyer and Benjamin. The President received them cordially, and the interview was of a very satisfactory character. Both sides come away satisfied that the President would cooperate cheerfully in an effort to reconcile all present differences. There is much good feeling over the present situation among the Missouri Republicans, and they feel confident that the relation of the administration to political affairs in this State will now assume such a character as to prove of great advantage in the approaching election of a successor to Drake.

The Republicans of Indiana have just finished the job of clearing their State of a debt of ten millions which was saddled upon it years ago by the Democrats. The present Legislature is Democratic, and now that party proposes again to plunge the State in debt to the tune of sixteen millions by assuming worthless canal scrip. The Chicago Tribune says: The danger which threatens the State is that the Legislature will yield to the blandishments of the lobby holding sixteen millions of dollars worth of scrip, now utterly worthless, but to which the Legislature can give a value of 100 cents on the dollar. The power of this lobby has been felt in the State at several State elections. There seems to be a general understanding that the Democratic party, in return for material aid, is to pass the law taking back the canal, and assuming the debt. The Legislature elect is Democratic, and the holders of the canal scrip propose, this winter, to make a demonstration in force at Indianapolis to induce the State Government to repurchase the canal. If they can do this, they will realize sixteen millions of dollars from the people of Indiana, and can well afford to pay one-half that sum for the legislation.

THE TERRITORIES

They have caught the lottery mania at Olympia, and are raffling for houses and lots.

The Port Discovery mill on Puget Sound employs 75 men and cuts 40,000 feet of lumber per day.

U. S. Marshal Kearney gave an entertainment to a crowd of his friends at Olympia the other day. An excellent collation was spread, champagne flowed, and there was a jolly good time all round. Before separating, it was unanimously resolved that the Marshal remove his office to Olympia and keep open house every day.

Swamp Lands.

(From the Jacksonville Sentinel.)

Our fellow citizens of Link river, probably recollect the swamp land argument used by Fay and his associates, during the last canvass. Link river was indignant at the prospect of having all her swamp and overflowed lands, which constitutes the best part of her commons, gobbled up by greedy land grabbers. She did not want her swamp lands monopolized by a few speculators, and hence she gave Fay the majority in that precinct which seemed his election, in the county, and also gave Hon. A. J. Burnett a very handsome and complimentary majority. Of course their swamp lands were safe after Fay and Burnett were elected; they wouldn't let anybody gobble the land away from the honest farmers and stock raisers of Link river. Oh no! they wouldn't do it themselves either; that was out of the question. But in the due course of legislation, a swamp land bill, which had the appearance of being very favorable to speculators, went through the legislature. It was not, however, calculated for "fish capitalists" exclusively. A poor man who had the opportunity on his side, could gobble about as much as any one. This is the popular feature of the bill. Jack Burnett and Mike Hanly, about fifteen minutes after the thing became possible, threw their lines around about 84,000 acres on Link river—so rumor has it. And Fay and some of his friends gobbled up Buck Lake valley entirely, with about the same precipitation. This last, also is public rumor only; we have not seen the documents for it. It was such a good chance for poor men to make a speculation, that of course Fay and Burnett gobbled it up to keep river? Is it easier to be swallowed by little fish than big ones? How do you like bills which allow poor men to speculate on an equal footing with rich capitalists?

Fay scared you with Bill Ish until you run right into his and Burnett's net, and it doesn't cost them a cent either. That's the cream of the joke. We are happy to inform all of our friends who are afflicted with a mania for swamp lands, that Hon. J. N. T. Miller has been appointed Deputy, for the selection of swamp and overflowed lands in this county.

If you know of any lands in the county which get moist occasionally, and which you want, and Fay and Burnett haven't got and don't want, go and see him.

GEN. TROCHU'S SPIRIT.—The Washington Patriot has this paragraph:

There is something very grand in General Trochu's last tribute to the valor and energy of a patriotic people. "I pause," says he, "being unable to tell everything; but I doubt whether, at any time in the history of any invaded nation, any great city, after the destruction of its armies, invested, and deprived of communication with the rest of the country, has opposed more vigorous efforts of moral and material resistance to apparently immediate disaster. Therefore," he adds, "let us close our ranks round the Republic, and lift up our hearts—look our perils full in the face, oppose them with calm breasts, and clench resistance and battle in every shape. If we triumph, we shall have deserved well of our country by setting a great example. If we be vanquished, we shall bequeath to Prussia, (which will have taken the place of the First Empire in the sanguinary saturnalia of conquest and violence,) together with a scheme which cannot be carried into execution, an inheritance of hatred under which it, in turn, will fall." There is a clearer ring in this, a truer appeal to the heart of a people, turned for the nonce to soldiers, than in all the suns of Austerlitz and forty centuries and baptisms of fire that ever fell from Napoleonic lips. The "regular army" of France is captive in Prussian prisons. It is the volunteer people who are fighting now.

OREGON.

The Yamhill paper says that the fall sown wheat has not suffered by the recent freeze.

The Statesman reports that the small pox has left Silverton. There are no new cases, and the sick have all recovered.

Yamhill county joins Douglas in the cry for potatoes. The West Side says it is almost impossible to obtain that esculent in Yamhill at any price. This looks a little like improvidence on the part of the farmers of Yamhill and Douglas. They should order a supply of potatoes from California early in the season, so as to make sure of getting a winter's supply before navigation closes.

Germany, it is stated in a Berlin mail telegram, is averse to a Congress on the Black Sea question, and would decline any discussion of her home affairs or of the present military situation.

CITY.

THE STEAMERS —The propeller Geo S Wright came down the river yesterday morning to try for a passage of the ice blockade It was unsuccessful when she left what would be the result of trying with the other steamers, in case she should get through, and there were consequently great inquiry and anxiety through the city on the part of people who desired to take passage on the one or the other of the steamers Mr. Wadler went down on the Wright and during the afternoon telegraphed that she had got through, and gave orders for the sailing of the steamers The rail steamer went down at 3 o'clock P M with passengers and freight and twenty five tons of freight to go on the Oriflamme and supplies for the Geo S Wright at 5 P M the Vancouver left with passengers for Portland with the Oriflamme and Wright at Monticello Both steamers will proceed on their way from that point. The propeller Oriflamme will sail from this city this morning. Portland and Puget Sound

REAL ESTATE BUSINESS —An examination of the transfers reported as considerations in the matter of real estate during the month of December will show an astonishing aggregate value of deeds bought and sold Seven deeds recorded Monday show an aggregate of considerations amounting to $32,422 75 This is, of course, above the average, but it is not infrequent that the figures for a single day show nearly or quite one half. One firm of real estate agents in this city will show at the end of the month sales amounting to nearly $100,000, and perhaps others will be able to make very near as good a showing for the month. The real estate market was never more active

STEAMERS FOR SAN FRANCISCO.—The following is the list of passengers for San Francisco per steamer Oriflamme Miss D W Printis and child, Mrs M Haynes and 2 children, P D Dedmore, C N Cadwell, Judge Rice, B Cutler, L Fox, C Harrison, L Kosse, Peter Dickerson, James E Kane, Jeffry, G W Watson, J Upton, J G Flowerdew, J Wise, Miss Roberts, J G Wiscarver, Robert Nelson, Mrs E Goodwin, Wm Condor, T H Caufield, J Jackson, J B Knapp, W K Ish and wife, Jackson, Andrew Snyder, M V Boonts, and son, J B Amet, J R Barker, J Q and 12 in steerage.

HATH CHARMS," ETC —This old saying was verified on First street last evening The front of Ore Fino Theater and Philharmonic were, of course, out at the same hour, and by accident, whenever one band struck in, each playing a different tune, and thus the street was filled with a delicious jangle of musical notes—whole measures of notes which went tumbling, and rolling under through and around each other in the most inextricable manner and producing a wonderful compounds of melody The band attracted its units enough on the start to fill both houses the skating rink, and a dozen first class Festivals

THE HOLE IS MADE. The workmen on the North Portland trestle are pushing rapidly upon the original design, as modified and altered by driving the piles for the west side section of the trestle, more than the driver over the west side of the draw stone and are now pegging the stringers and I strikes us that this work will be a full grown broad gauge

IN OPERATIONS RESUMED —The grading on Taylor's Point which was suspended during the cold weather has been again resumed by a force of workmen The gravel, as heretofore, is being moved all under the trestle bridge in front of East Portland. A double track has been laid over a part of the way from the Point to the bridge, the present rendered necessary by the passage of freight trains down to the new dock.

THE PACIFIC RAILROAD DIRECTORS —Messrs. Ben Holladay, J A Goodwin Thomas Caufield and H W Corbett, Directors of the North Pacific Railroad, left last evening for San Francisco. Mr J B Montgomery, a stockholder in the road, who has been in Oregon and Washington Territories for months, also went below. It is said that this movement is connected with the plan for an early beginning of work on the road in the spring

SERMON —Rev Mr Summers, who preached in this city last Wednesday evening before the pastoral charge at Steilacoom, Puget Sound

Mr Wyche of Washington Territory, left on the last evening for San Francisco, on the Eastern States

Lieut Gabrielson, U S N, was among the passengers on the late steamer He is on his way to Portland, where he has been ordered to the command of the Revenue Cutter Lincoln.

AN EXCELLENT IDEA —The Olympia Transcript unanimously proposes to the termini of the Puget Sound and the Northern Pacific Railroad company, to lay aside all petty jealousy and to unite in making the terminus at Olympia. Now if the down Sound people and the company would just take that liberal view of the matter, the terminal millennium would be here.

A SQUARE MEETING To-NIGHT —Let everybody who is interested in having a West Side railroad run into Portland, attend the meeting to-night in the Council Chamber, at seven o'clock The chair will report progress, and the subscription book be open for all comers A number of names perhaps on the "subsidy ordinance" will be expected.

ODD FELLOWS ELECTION.—At a regular meeting of Samaritan Lodge No. 2, I.O.O F., held last Monday evening in Odd Fellows' Hall, the following officers were elected for the ensuing term P N G; Wm B. Ross, V G, Swanson, R. S., Charles Hodge, Treasurer.

TAXES —Sheriff Hills may now and hereafter be found at the Court House ready to receive taxes due for 1870. All such dues must be paid before the 20th, if the parties owing would avoid the costs of collection.

TO SAIL —Now that the river is open below, the barks Almata and Lyra will go down as soon as they can get towage. The Montgomery Castle

AMUSEMENTS

ORE FINO THEATER —The "Carpenter of Rouen" was repeated at Ore Fino last evening, and the entertainment ended with the farce "Turn Him Out. The drama was most admirably played, and the parts were sustained in good style. The scenery and tableaux were put up in a thoroughly perfect and artistic manner, and the play deserved a full house As a dramatic representation, it is infinitely superior to most of the so-called sensational plays, and we observe that it be tried again at no distant day

Of all the exceedingly beautiful, spectacular features of the "Angel of Midnight" will be produced, in which Mrs. Bates will assume her great character of the Angel of Midnight. One of the tableaux in this piece are among the most singularly beautiful pictures known to the drama.

OPERA COMIQUE —A very good house greeted the little benefactiary, May Wells, last evening at Mallon's Temperance Hall The entire bill as announced during the day was performed, keeping the audience fully until midnight Miss May personated Little Barney Morgan with so much dramatic effect as to astonish the auditors. She is certainly a wonderful child—scarcely more than seven years old and yet she sings with as much confidence and acts with as much dramatic abandon, or careful precision according to the demands of the occasion, as many an actress who can count her stage years by more than three times. The audience was immensely pleased with her songs. Taking the whole on together, it was one of the most pleasant entertainments of the entire winter season

SOCIAL PARTY —A merry and social lot of young people enjoyed themselves till a late hour last night at the Pavilion house, in the practice of the old fashioned

SKATING RINK —The Armory Hall was visited by numerous skaters during the day yesterday. The sport seems to be quite as fascinating in the skating on ice The hall will be open this evening

LOCAL BREVITIES

The East Portland Band, under the lead of Tom Parrott, numbers eleven pieces, and they are getting able to toot like all sixty

An anxious brother at Virginia City, Nevada, wants information of Felix Rossetti, who was in the Multnomah Hospital last October

The East Portland jail has been completed and ready for acceptance by the Board of Trustees

Since the thaw, many of the cross walks, even on the best cleaned streets, sadly need cleaning off

A camp of Chinamen, who are to be employed on street improvements at East Portland, has been established near Clinton's Point

Those persons who have fancied for the last few days that they have heard Gabriel's horn, may quiet their nerves—the noise they heard was only the steam whistle of the new ferry boat

The ship Montgomery Castle has on board for England nearly 23 000 sacks of wheat equal to almost fourteen hundred tons, by weight

Commissioner Parker has received a letter from J A Vaill, Superintendent of the Indians in Montana, in which he says a great many want to work on their places in the good diggings, and hopes the whites will be kept away from them They also ask that the Great Father will send them some one to show how to wash out the gold In compliance with their wishes, a school has been established there which, within the next six months will be attended by 300 children Arrangements have been perfected to build houses for such Indians as will go to farming, and furnish each family so doing with a cow and yoke of oxen as far as the appropriations for that purpose will permit

The Chicago Lake tunnel is a failure, being too small to supply the city with water, and now it is proposed to build a second tunnel seven feet in diameter at a cost of one million dollars. Meantime, the city debt is increasing at the rate of $4,336,000 per annum, having advanced $2 891 000 in the last eight months, and it is now up to an aggregate of $14,000,000. A very large proportion of the real property in Chicago is owned by non residents That's the place to run up a large city debt

THE FINEST ART —The Oriflamme brought for B L Thomas the nicest lot of Sets, Rings, Lockets and other Jewelry ever exhibited in this market Also a fine line of Silverware—Gold and Silver Watches &c, &c As their stock of elegant goods arrived so late they will be sold very low Persons wishing to make some good bargains will do well to call

THE people are all looking about for something extra nice for holiday dinners (and everybody has a holiday dinner) O M Marvin is the man of the time and is fully prepared for the emergency For proof consult his splendid stock of Family Groceries, Fresh Vegetables, Butter and Eggs, Salt Fish, Chinook Salmon Bellies, Halibut Fins, Game of every description, all the Fruits of the season, Honey, and Nick nacks too numerous to mention

Why is it that Kohn & Fishel keep the largest supply of Clothing in this city?
Because their sales require it
Why can they afford to sell cheaper than any other house?
Because they buy in large quantities and get them cheaper, and because they are satisfied with small profits and quick returns, which system has brought them an enormous trade, and made them first in their business in the city

December is here, with her storms and her rain,
And it wakes the folks of cold weather complain
Mark ye, dear gentlemen this need not be so,
You can all be kept warm, for O'NEIL & CO
Can fit you so nicely, so snug and so warm,
With CLOTHES that are proof 'gainst the bitterest storm,
And they sell them so cheaply that all who go there
Unlike Flora McFlimsey can find something to wear

Thieves! Knaves! SWINDLERS!!!—These are mild terms with which to designate those mean contemptible adventurers who have been buttoned by the high reputation which Dr Sage's Catarrh Remedy has won to put up and offer for sale a worthless imitation of this celebrated medicine Remember that Dr R. V. Pierce's private Stamp which is the only positive Guarantee of Genuineness, should be upon every package. This private Stamp issued by the U S. Government expressly for stamping Dr Pierce's medicines, has upon it his portrait, name and address and the words "U S Certificate of Genuineness Don't get swindled by men calling themselves Dr Sage, Dr Pierce, of Buffalo N Y, is the only man now living that has the right and can make the original Dr Sage's Catarrh Remedy Sold by druggists or sent by mail on receipt of sixty cents.

The particular attention of the Farming Community is called to our recent importation of Improved MOLINE PLOWS, greatly superior to any other Moline Plow in the Market, notwithstanding a certain firm, somewhat noted for truth and veracity, so-called "so-called" parodist in a rising that they are "bogus." "California made" etc
Don't fail to call and look at one of the MOLINE PLOW Co's LATEST MAKE, and we think you will coincide with a Yamhill Farmer, who, after "looking round" and hearing the old story about bogus Moliens, etc., delivered himself thusly Well, Myers I'll just chance a couple of those new plows, and if they are 'bogus,' as that gassy chap above here says, I'll be d—d if I won't take bogus in mine every time"
Next month we expect another shipment of those justly celebrated BAIN WAGONS, (Have now only a few left of the last lot,) STILL FURTHER IMPROVED over all heretofore received It is not presuming too much on our part to say that they are head and shoulders above any other Farm wagon in market in point of material workmanship and finish, having achieved a reputation throughout the West, and wherever introduced on the Pacific, second to no other wagon. Some of the first so'd here three years ago,—have never yet had a tire re-set, and our experience has enabled us to order many changes and improvements over the ordinary make of western wagons to meet the wants and requirements of this coast. We shall sell the BAIN WAGON at the lowest possible price for a first class wagon, and WARRANT them such and in this connection beg to caution purchasers not to confound them with "inferior makes that others are, or may endeavor to sell on the strength of the established reputation of the Bain manufacture particularly after having made repeated and persistent efforts (without avail) to purchase wagons of Mr Bain for this market

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

PORTLAND, Thursday, Dec. 29, 1870.

Gold has stood the entire week at 110¾@111¼—the latter the closing figure.

The San Francisco prices of legal tenders is from 0.. to 99¾.

Portland legal tender rates are 90c buying and 91c selling.

Exchange on San Francisco—cash, ¼ of 1 per cent.; currency, ½ of one per cent.

Exchange on New York, 1½ per cent; telegraph transfers, 1¼ per cent.

Rates of interest, at the banks 1 per cent.; outside rates, 1½@2 per cent.

Oregon Bounty and Relief bonds, 93@97½; State warrants, 97c@par.

There is nothing new to note in the condition of the money market. The supply is ample for all legitimate business needs; and accommodations are obtained without difficulty.

In most lines of trade business has ruled quiet and light. Hardware presents an exception to the rule, trade in that line having been quite good the entire week, and better for the entire month than ever known in December. In consequence of suspended navigation on the Columbia, low water in the Wallamet and the bad state of the roads, shipments of dry goods, groceries, etc., to the interior are light.

Two considerable lots of rice, imported into this port from China, have recently been withdrawn from bond here and shipped to San Francisco. This is an unusual change in the direction of trade. Rice is a scarce article in the San Francisco market.

In the produce market we find a good demand for shipping grades of wheat, and an advancing tendency in the market. Oats are scarce and wanted at our quotations. There is no change in flour.

The cargo of the Lyra, which cleared on Wednesday for Queenstown or Falmouth for orders, consisted of 22,137 bushels of wheat, in sacks, valued at $25,657 56.

The bark Almatia completed her cargo yesterday, and will sail for San Francisco as soon as the Columbia river shall be clear of ice. Her cargo consists of 334 barrels pork, 151 barrels and 100 half barrels salmon, 511 bundles hoops, 1,500 staves, 18,361 sacks of flour and 275 pieces of wood for shoe lasts.

The ship Montgomery Castle is loaded, but as she has not yet cleared we cannot give her exact cargo. She is loaded with wheat for England, and has on board probably twelve hundred tons.

Provisions—There is no sale for bacon or lard, and the quotations are but little better than nominal. There is a de... upon the return of a very l... shipment to the ... port from England. Butter of all grades is cance... and best prices are higher.

PASSENGER DEPT.

Passengers arrived in the District from foreign countries: Cabin, 43; steerage, 28; total, 73.

Passengers departed from the District to foreign countries: Cabin, 43; steerage, 305; total, 348.

The coasting trade for the same length of time, of which ... data are kept, may be estimated in the aggregate at about three times the tonnage and not less than four times the value of the foreign, as above. The steamer ... ric, which had not cleared yesterday, but which will sail to-day for Victoria, will add something to the foreign figures of exports. The ship Montgomery Castle, which is ready for sea, may clear within the quarter, and thus another considerable sum will be added to the quarter's exports.

San Francisco Markets.

We append below some comparative quotations at San Francisco on the 24th inst.:

Flour—The local trade has been fair with a moderate demand for exporting the past week. Transactions embraced 9,000 bbls California extra, 3,000 bbls Oregon extra, and 14,000 bbls superfine and extra for export, including Golden Gate, Golden Age, National and Stockton City Mills at current rates. We quote standard brands Oregon extra at $6 25@6 50, and local brands as follows: Superfine at $5 15@5 50, and extra at $6 37½@6 50 ₱ 196 lbs.

Butter—California, ordinary to choice firkin, 32½@40c; fresh roll, 40@45c, a few fancy dairies held at an advance; packed roll, in bbls, 38@40c; Oregon, firkin 27@32½c; Sonoma, do, 35@37½c.

Eggs—Oregon, 40c; California 45c ₱ doz.

Hams—California, at 15@15½c ₱ lb; Oregon, at 16½@17c.

Bacon—California, at 12½@13½c ₱ lb; Oregon, at 16@17c.

Lard—California, at 12½@13½c; Oregon, in kegs, at 13½@14c.

Dried Apples—California, 6½c; Oregon, 6¾c.

Lumber—Cargo rates for export from mill ports at $10 all for lumber, and $4@9 for flooring, and the following are the wholesale rates to dealers: Redwood, rough at $13; do sizing $22 50; do surfaced, 35; fancy inches $30. Oregon, rough at $17; do flooring $27; do bowling $18; lath $3@3 50.

Oregon salmon, in bbls, $8, and half bbls, $4 25@4 50; rose salmon, $2@3 ₱ doz for 1 and 2 lb cans, respectively.

The above ... of bacon of all sorts are too high, under the effect of later news from the east.

New York Commercial News.

The San Francisco Bulletin of the 20th has a New York letter of the 17th inst., from which we quote the following:

Freights via Isthmus are quite active, and the next departure will have equally as large an amount of freight as the last one. The comparatively high rates by rail when compared with this route are attracting some attention from a certain class of shippers, and if they continue the movement via Isthmus, must greatly increase.

Shipments overland continue moderate, and the movement is not so large as it was some time since. The movement of the past five days includes 318 packages of raisins, etc; 350 packages tobacco, and 1,150 packages general freight; also six car loads of raisins, etc., from Philadelphia. The shipment of Grant's candies per Star line and the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad continues, and some 10,000 [illegible] tons have already gone forward.

As usual, during the closing days of the year, our general markets are dull, and the only visible movement is in holiday goods, and in these there is not the usual spirit which characterized former seasons.

Breadstuffs were more active early in the week, under more favorable European advices, and an advance in gold; but since then European markets are hardly so favorable, and with a reaction in gold and firmer freights, the market is dull, with prices more in favor of buyers. Exporters are not operating to any extent, while holders are too confident to name prices low enough to admit of business of moment. California nominal, at $1 65@1 75. Latest Liverpool quotations, 11s 3d@11s 4d.

Grain freights are firm, there being no excess of tonnage. Per sail, 6¼d; per steamer, 7¾d.

The wool market is generally dull. There have been some manufacturers in town, but have not purchased to any extent. After the New Year it is probable there will a be better demand, and as supplies are slight, a firmer tone is anticipated. California wools are quiet. The demand is mainly for goods of which the stock is small, and they are held firmer than other grades. Fall clip is coming in considerable quantities, and under light demand is accumulating. Sales fine up 165,000 pounds of Lambs', 24c; 10,000 pounds California and Oregon, 26c@28c.

Hides are scarcely so firm, and the sales of some descriptions have been made, to arrive, at half cent decline. Sales of 800 California, to arrive, at 24c gold; 750 do, private terms.

Foreign News.

The steamer Japan arrived on the 21st, from Hong Kong, at San Francisco, having encountered heavy weather in the China Seas and detention at Yokahama. Her passenger list was the lightest in a year, embracing only ten, of which 6 were Chinese. The small number of the latter is necessarily due to the approaching celebration of the Chinese New Year. Her cargo also brought 15,000 packages Tea, 4,000 mats Rice, 200 cases Nut Oil, 200 bales Silk and 800 bales Hemp. The Silk and 3,900 pkgs of the Tea are for New York. She brings one month's later dates from Asiatic and East Indian ports.

Dates from Manila to October 24th, quote Coffee at $11 25@... Cordage, 5½@5¾c; Hemp, $10 50; Brown Sugar, $4 12½; Current do, $4 62½@4 75. Exports of Sugar to San Francisco to date, 49,000 piculs, against 104,700 piculs same time last season, and of Hemp, 11,900 bales against 16,220 bales in 1869. No Flour in the market; choice brands would command good prices.

Batavia dates of September 24th quote California Flour at 21@22 florens; Coffee, 27½; refined Sugar, 14@14½ and No. 1 Rice, 140@145 florens.

Advices from Hong Kong to November 12th are received. California Flour was quoted at $7 25@7 50 for Superfine; Wheat, $2 20@2 25; China Rice, $4 55 for No. 1, a further advance; China Nut Oil, $112 50 ₱ ton; Coal, $30, an advance of $15. Two Clarendon and Frederick Tudor had been chartered to load for San Francisco, and the Kinnaird to proceed to Manila and load Sugar for the California Refinery, last named at $10,000 gold. The China Rice crop had turned out very poorly, and is 30 or 40 per cent. short. Black Pepper was scarce at $11@11 25; Sugar, $7 30@7 50 for No. 1 White and $4 10@4 20 for Brown.

Shanghai dates to November 12th. Flour was quoted at $5@7 taels for baker's extra. No inquiry for wheat. Oats, 3 candareens per lb. Butter, 40 candareens per lb. In the early part of the month, there was an active demand for both black and green teas, but at the close the market was quiet, with a decline of 2 taels for green, common to fair medium grades of which were quoted at 25@36 taels; medium to good medium, 35@40 taels; and fine to finest, 41@47 taels. The silk market was weak and 10 taels lower for Tsatlee.

Japan dates are to November 24th. The Yokohama Gazette reports a very decided decline in teas, especially low grades, of which the stock was uncommonly large. The closing quotations per 133⅓ lbs were as follows: Common, $20@24, good common, $28@27; medium, $28@33; good medium, $33@38; fine, $37@40.

The unsold stock of silk was 2,600 bales; best descriptions of Miyhash and Sinshu, $750@800 per picul.

In consequence of less favorable reports of the native crop, rice had advanced 10@20 per picul.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

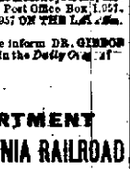
NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,



623 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

DR. GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned from visiting the principal Hospitals of Europe, and has resumed practice at his Dispensary, 623 Kearny street, corner of Commercial, San Francisco, where his old patients and those requiring his services may find him.

The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies, and has returned with increased facilities for the alleviation of human suffering.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering on account of the horrible effects of early indulgence, or from what is generally termed the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of [illegible] or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid state [illegible] thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of those horrible life-destroying maladies—for thus they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private disease his especial study for years, and who is certain to be one of the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their evil fame during all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from European and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse: This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of horrible symptoms, unless combated by the means of local measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, quick pain about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, indigestion, pain after eating, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a course effected by his new and selfwith the mode of treating this disease, that never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are [illegible] of any under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will guarantee to patients a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

LAND DEPARTMENT

OREGON & CALIFORNIA RAILROAD COMPANY.

ROSEBURG, OREGON, October 22, 1870.

THE FOLLOWING STATEMENT IS MADE FOR the information of all concerned:

First—Congress has granted to the Company all alternate sections of the public lands designated by odd numbers within a distance of thirty miles on each side of the railroad, excepting lands to which a pre-emption or homestead claim had attached prior to the withdrawal by the Government of the lands co-terminus with the first division of twenty miles of the line from East Portland to Jefferson, at 12 M. February 16, 1870. The second division of located line from Jefferson to a point six miles south of Roseburg, May, 1870, and from the last named point to the California line, 1870.

Second—Persons who have valid pre-emption or homestead claims upon any tract on an odd numbered section can purchase the same from the Railroad Company at the Government price of $1 25 per acre in greenbacks, and upon very favorable terms, if they so desire, by filing an abandonment of their claim in the U. S. Land Office, blanks for which will be furnished by the Land Agent of the Company. Such purchase from the Company has these advantages over a purchase from the Government: The party can leave the land if necessary; he can sell the land or mortgage it; he is saved the payment of lawyers' or agents' fees, and expenses of witnesses to go to the Land Office to "prove up" his claim; he can get his title perfect in less time, and he can buy on credit at a low rate of interest.

Third—No sales will be made by the Company until the land is listed over to it by the United States Land Commissioner and Secretary of the Interior.

Purchasers are thus assured that the title they obtain is perfect. J. R. MOORES,

3tf&dlaw Land Agent O. & C. R. R. Co., Salem
